

Wasco Teacher Wins Award after Nomination by Student

Wasco Elementary 1st Grade Teacher Mrs. Susanna Hartmann was recently given the Excellence in Teaching Award by the National Federation for the Blind based on the nomination by Thomas Howe, one of her students from last year. There is no better way to explain why Mrs. Hartmann won this award other than using the words from Thomas' nomination letter that his mom helped him write:

"Mrs. Hartmann encouraged Thomas to arrive to class a little early to put his belongings away and get settled before the mad rush of children arrived. She also provided a special hook for Thomas's walking cane and a home for his other tools like; monocular, magnifier, and brailier. Additionally, Mrs. Hartmann suggested during indoor recess Thomas could make the brailier "open" for him to show the other kids what it was and how it worked. Thomas gained a sense of pride when he would teach the other children Braille and he even helped them use the brailier to make bookmarks with their names brailled on it."

Congratulations to Thomas and to Mrs. Hartmann!

The St. Charles North Educators Rising Club participated in the 2016 Read for the Record at Corron Elementary School on Thursday, October 27. Sixteen high school students read the book and led activities for 11 elementary school students who participate in the South Elgin Park District's AfterShock program after school.

Jumpstart's Read for the Record[®] is a national campaign launched over a decade ago that helps address educational inequities that leave too many children unprepared for kindergarten. The 2016 book featured was The Bear Ate Your Sandwich written by Julia Sarcone-Roach.

The Educators Rising students led activities including games and crafts after reading the book. A copy of the book will be donated to the Corron Elementary School library from the North H.S. Educators Rising.

WRED-TV Producing Report for Students

about Election Process

Parent University 2016-17 Session 1

Fostering Resiliency and Promoting Emotional Growth in Children

As much as we may try as parents, it is not possible to protect our children from all the ups and downs of life. Raising resilient children, however, is possible and you can help provide them with the tools they need to respond to the challenges of adolescence and young adulthood. The key to resiliency is changing how we think about challenges and adversities.

Join us for District 303 Parent University "Fostering Resiliency and Promoting Emotional Growth in Children" on Tuesday, November 15 from 7:00- 8:30 p.m. in the Board Room of the District 303 Administration Building, 201 S. 7th Street St. Charles, IL 60174.

Our guest speaker will be Heather Bilbrey MA, Therapist at Amita Health. Heather will discuss specific strategies parents can provide to their children to foster resiliency while also promoting their emotional growth. This presentation will also help parents understand signs and symptoms of anxiety, as well as provide strategies for parents to use when their child is anxious and/or struggling.
