East Students Receive Life-Saving Training

On October 18, Mrs. Cameron's Advanced Healthcare Concepts class invited D303 Certified School Nurses, Wendy Landers and Karen Madura, to train students in "Stop the Bleed," a program focused on teaching the basic skills in bleeding control principles. D303 Certified School Nurses were trained as stop the bleed instructors last spring.

in which a tourniquet might be needed and how best to approach those situations. The pace at which the tourniquets cut off circulation to their limbs surprised the students and helped them understand the implication of using such a technique. Assistant Principal for Instructional Programs, Mr. Orszula, also visited and engaged in the learning activity, allowing students to adjust the tourniquet on him and learn from their observations.

After reviewing the concepts they learned in class, students attentively listened to Mrs. Madura and Mrs. Landers explain and demonstrate the proper use of tourniquet application. "It doesn't feel like a class because I am learning about what I like," commented junior student, Veronica.

For the second part of the training, students practiced proper use of direct pressure and packing a wound combined with tourniquet application. After successfully completing the classroom instruction course and demonstrating the skills, Mrs. Cameron and her students received a certificate from the American College of Surgeons, Committee on Trauma.

Following the demonstration, students practiced with a partner, adjusting the tourniquet on themselves, and feeling how tight it needed to be placed for it to properly work. They also reviewed the situations

This is the first group of students to be formally trained in this life-saving program.

Third Annual Orchestra Fest

On October 22, 8th grade students from Thompson and Wredling middle schools joined Chamber Orchestra students from St. Charles East and North high schools for the 3rd Annual Orchestra Fest rehearsal and concert. The concert is a celebration of the rich history of orchestral music in the District.

Middle school students practiced and learned from the upperclassmen while also having the opportunity to share what they love most about music and their instruments. This event was made possible thanks to the guidance and support from the middle school directors, Don Kovach, Jim Pesek, and Angie Wifler, as well as the high school directors, Daniel Beder from East, and Andy Masters from North.

Anderson Students Help the St. Charles Community

For seven weeks, Anderson's Community Service After School Club members work on a variety of projects that support the needs of the St. Charles community. Most recently, they met on October 17 to make sack lunches and write inspiring and uplifting notes for Lazarus House residents.

"This club is filled with kids who volunteer their time to stay after school and work together to help our community," commented Anderson Principal, Mr. Jarot.

This year, students have also made arts and crafts projects for kids battling cancer, as well as cloth chew toys for dogs at the local animal shelters. With support from their club advisor, Ms. Reyes, students will work on a new project involving plastic bags and recycling.

"I always remind students that they can make a difference, no matter how small it may seem. I love seeing how inspired they are to help others," added Ms. Reyes.

Author Alan Gratz Makes History Come Alive

Wredling 6th and 7th-grade students were beyond excited to welcome young adult writer, Alan Gratz, on October 16, when he spent time signing books and sharing stories about his life, travels, and the inspiration behind the characters in his novels.

Students first learned about Alan last year when they read Refugee for their Global Read Aloud. Students became more and more interested in the author, his books, and his characters, even researching information about the countries where the characters are from. Students worked on a variety of projects and activities related to the book and concluded by building a raft inspired by the events that happened in the book.

With support from LRC Media Specialist, Mrs. Cannon, and Anderson's Bookshops, they were able to get Alan to visit Wredling. During the book signing, students talked to him about their favorite characters, which books they enjoyed the most, and how much they love reading in their free time.

During the presentation, students learned about the first story Alan wrote, "The Mummy and the Vampire," laughed as he recounted his attempts at playing sports, and were inspired to learn about world history and people from different countries.

New Elementary School Day Think Tank Meeting #2

On October 21, 2019, members of the New Elementary School Day Think Tank met for their second of three meetings. As a reminder, this working group is comprised of parents, teachers, and administrators.

The meeting centered around several themes that emerged from stakeholder feedback related to the desire for students to have more play and movement in their day, as well as for students to have more opportunities to develop their social emotional skills. Prior to the meeting, Think Tank members read three different articles to deepen their understanding of these topics.

At the meeting, the Think Tank engaged in discussions and activities centered around innovative learning as it relates to play, movement, and social emotional skill development. Using their understanding of innovative learning and the analysis of stakeholder feedback, the group drafted guiding principles that will be used to provide further guidance on the development of the learning experiences that will be offered to students as part of the new elementary school day.

The Think Tank will meet again in December to continue to provide input and guidance and make recommendations regarding potential learning experiences.

Interactive Sound Wave Stations for First Graders

As part of their Project Lead the Way Light and Sound unit, Ferson Creek students explored four sound wave stations to learn more about sound and how it travels through different mediums.

In the first station, students used pencils, pens, and other metal objects against a metal water bottle to produce different sounds. In the second station, students snapped rubber bands against a hollow plastic box, stretching the rubber bands in different directions and lengths to experiment with the sounds.

For the third station, Certified School Nurse, Mrs. Landers, allowed students to use a stethoscope to hear their hearts. Students were amazed by the sound of their heartbeat and how loud it was. As they completed each station, students drew a sketch of the activity and what they did to produce sound, answering questions related to each station to help them reflect on what they did to produce sound and how they differ.

In the last station, students welcomed District 303 parent, Mrs. Puri, who delighted everyone with her harp music. She taught students how different strings can make different sounds based on their length and tension, and how the wooden frame helps amplify the sound it makes.

Big Hearts of Fox Valley NFP is a registered 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to brightening the lives of underprivileged children in our community. We're committed to identifying and coming together to meet social, emotional and basic needs of those around us.

It was almost Christmas time and as we looked under our tree to see the piles of wrapped presents for our children, we thought about the little ones that wouldn't be opening presents on Christmas morning. We decided to reach out to our children's school social worker to see if there were any families that may need some assistance providing Christmas gifts to their kids. We, like many others, didn't realize there was a large number of families in need within our own community.

That's where this all started. In 2014, we were able to help provide Christmas gifts to kids in need within our own school.

Since 2014, we have been coordinating a Christmas gift sponsorship program to help the underprivileged children in School District 303 receive gifts from wish lists that each child personally creates. We work with School District 303 social workers who gather wish list information from families they feel may need some assistance providing Christmas gifts for their children. These wish lists are comprised of a few toy ideas along with clothing and shoe sizes. Many of these kids are in need of basic things like winter coats, boots, gloves, socks, etc. In 2018, we were able to provide gifts to 443 children from birth up to 8th grade. This year, we are excited to be expanding our efforts. We estimate that we will be able to support more than 600 children.

Each year we host a gift wrapping event at our Excel Automotive Repair shop. The entire community is invited to come together to wrap the donated gifts and to celebrate the magic of Christmas. With help from several local community sponsors, we always have plenty of food, drinks and entertainment for the entire family. This is a FREE event open to the public and is a great opportunity to show kids about the importance of giving back. In 2018, more than 600 people came together to wrap over 2400 gifts!

Big Hearts of Fox Valley Committees are in the process of creating a few other events that will happen in the upcoming years. We're excited to include an event to benefit high school aged kids as well. Our future goal is to partner with all community individuals and businesses in order to achieve our goal which is to make the lives of the children around us a little brighter.

We hope you will join us in our efforts,
 ♥ - The Mobley Family
